Universal Cash Drawer (UCD)

The UCD (Universal Cash Drawer) was constructed using the latest production methods. It is robust, lightweight and offers large capacity at a minimum size.

The removable and folding coin insert simplifies the cash handling. Folding and locking the insert reduces to a minimum the time the contents are visible. In addition, transportation is simplified. When folded together, the dimensions of the insert also offer space advantages when being stored in the safe. The coin and note compartments are flexible and can be adapted for use with international currencies.

Market Sectors and Customers

The UCD cash drawer is suitable for all areas of the retail and hospitality industries, in which a secure and simple to handle solution needs to be used.

High security

The technical concept of the UCD makes it easier to remove the cash insert, which can be folded together. The operator can close and lock the cash insert and transport this box simply and securely. No additional cover plate is required. During transport the insert is locked and the contents are not visible to others. When folded together, the dimensions of the insert also offer space advantages when being stored in the safe.

Usable in all POS systems

The UCD fits to all POS systems. The UCD contains an interchangeable release device on the back which ensures easy connection to various models. When there is a system change, only a new release needs to be installed rather than having to replace the whole drawer.

Lockable cash drawer

The cash drawer is opened electrically via a connection to the POS system or to the printer. High-quality telescopic rails guarantee a long lifecycle in all market sectors, even those with heavy use. There is a quality lock on the front. A second security lock can be fitted as an option, which offers up to 2,000 lock combinations thus providing even more security.

Flexible interior

The inside of the cash drawer can be organised flexibly and thus adapted to the currency used. In the standard Euro configuration, there are four note and eight coin compartments. If desired, a fifth note compartment can be made from two coin compartments. The remaining six coin compartments can equally be increased to eight by adding two additional separators.

The UCD offers a wide media slot on the front. Cheques and receipts can be securely inserted without having to open the cash drawer.
